

“We’re Glad We Trusted Them”

“I was finishing my residency at Johns Hopkins before starting my practice in Denver, and I was concerned about building a new home long distance. With a recommendation from a friend who had purchased from Sheffield, we decided to take a chance.

“Our salesperson was very helpful, and immediately we felt we could trust him. The level of communication was excellent, and most things were done via email. The process was smooth and the few issues we had were quickly addressed and in a very accommodating manner. Sheffield always went the extra distance to make it right. The staff was amazing.

“It was easy to build a home in Denver while living in Maryland because of Sheffield’s special attention to detail. Sheffield Homes provided a phenomenal level of professionalism and trust.”
